May.2017

Hey everyone, all of us here at PWR Gaming are excited to bring you an awesome new newsletter series. In this we will be covering past events and up incoming events in and around the whole Paragon Community.

Community Updates:

PWR Gaming is proud to announce we have started working with Gaming By Sage, Eidolon eSports, and Paragon Brawlers. The communities have really shown PWR lots of support, from posting our events all over their communities, helping us cast and so much more. KOAs Wintheday has joined the PWR Gaming team, him and a few others will be supporting the group in tournaments and will be pushing to grow the community with many events. Let's all give a big PWR welcome to the KOA guys!!!

Tournaments Info:

We had an awesome turn out for Paragon Minor League IV with 19 Teams (8 on left bracket.11 on right side) showing up to fight it out. It was a hard fought battle on the right bracket, but Hardwire Black won it all in a best of three vs The ParaGoonies. House of Llamas was able to come out victorious on the left bracket. HuddyGTV from Paragon Brawlers did an awesome job casting the whole event. Thanks Huddy!! We will be hosting PML V on May 13th 2017 and PML VI EU will be on May 20th. PML VI will be our first tournament for EU teams.All PML info can be found on <https://tournaments.pwrgaming.net> .

Competitive Teams:

PWR Gaming is always looking to help teams grow in the competitive sense. On our discord players can make there own teams or look to join/make teams.As of now we are home to Team AWOL and Team Undead.Legionnaire NA but are always looking to help others join the team and grow. If you are interested in trying out please join <http://discord.pwrgaming.net/> for more info.

Future Events:

We are working on our official site now which will have all tournament and community info. It will be a one stop shop to all our links and social media. We are also looking towards TwitchCon 2017, we plan to be there and have a booth. Once more information is released we will try to set up some LAN tables so people can bring their own pc/console. We will be selling shirts and hosting local events to try to raise money for this and to try to help members that may want to go.

PWR Gaming Discord

In our discord we are home to Paragon and FH and soon LOL since we plan on hosting tournaments in the near future. As of now we have 21 teams that have their own rooms and access to the discord. With us continuing to grow, averaging 3-5 new teams every other week, we have a great range of teams available to scrim with. Chat rooms are available for new teams to come in and use the rooms as needed. Any team may have their own rooms but we ask that they are used actively or we will be taking them down to make room for others more active.

Teams that have their own room are not necessarily our team or only belong here, we are a competitive group so we offer the rooms to anyone.
